

FIELD UPDATE

Dave & Rivers IN HUNGARY

Hungary

The harvest is plentiful

Moved In and then Moved In

We have settled into our home in Budapest and love the house that God has given us. It is only 4 miles from the center of the city and students can easily get to our home by bus. But we have also "moved in" again because we moved into our dorm room for the month of July for our summer project, "Speak Out." Living with the students offers many opportunities to share Christ with them. There are many pictures on the blog: www.daveanddrivers.com

Our Hungarian Home

Speak Out

A year ago we began to plan to move to Hungary by July '09 so that we could serve at the English camp "Speak Out." It is really two camps in one. There are 35 Americans here for a month long mission trip to be the English-Tutors/Gospel-Sharers to the 300 Hungarian Campers. There are also 60 Hungarian volunteer student staff from Budapest that are doing beach evangelism. We feel so blessed to be partnering with this God-centered ministry. We are leading Music and Discipleship Groups. Lovin' it!

Our Family at Camp

Re-Learning Mode

So many things are new to us, and God has been gracious by giving us just one thing at a time. A short list of things we are relearning: How to buy fruit, fuse boxes and electricians, keys keys and more keys, church in two languages, public transportation and highways and in-town turning laws, paperwork for everything, counting to 10, exchange rates and banks...But the one thing that is the same here is the love of Christ for all who will believe. So we do feel, in a way, at home here. Pray that we will share the Gospel often, with boldness and love. Thank you so much for partnering with us.

Joy on her 3rd Birthday at Camp!
